

We are pleased to offer wholesaler opportunities for the Cold Flash Product.

Cold Flash began manufacturing in 2006. Our product was created to solve the common issue of hot flashes experienced by many menopausal women. As the baby boomers have aged, this demographic has grown exponentially. The Cold Flash product is one of the few solutions on the market that is non-invasive, free of hormones, portable and attractively inconspicuous at a low price point.

All necessary patents (patent pending) and licenses will be made available with this opportunity. Inquiries can be made to shelley@cold-flash.com
